

FUSE, BREAKER & CONTACTOR

RECYCLING

WHY RECYCLE

Fuses, circuit breakers and electrical contactors are often forgotten about in everyday recycling procedures, but with 71 million metric tons of metal being recycled each year, the evidence is clear that more items need to be recycled on a daily basis. Helping to do your part will keep these items out of our landfills, and their materials can then be used in new products.

Cooper Bussmann's Recycling Solutions

With Cooper Bussmann's fuse, circuit breaker, and electrical contactor drop boxes, recycling is easy. Simply stop into your local Colonial branch location, drop them into the box, and we'll take it from there!
